

NAMPO 2013!

It is the highlight of the year and the ultimate showcase for all industries involved in Agriculture in South Africa! Once again, MSD Animal Health was there! We had an outstanding exhibition and well-informed, friendly sales people from the Central Team, who manned the stand for 4 days. We answered farmers' questions and discussed all their possible animal health needs. With our vast range of products, we were able to provide a solution for almost all possible threats and diseases under South African circumstances. NAMPO is considered to be one of the largest outdoor shows of its kind, in the world. "I would like to thank and congratulate everybody for their involvement, hard work and special efforts, in making this year's NAMPO such a great success. Also a big thank you to Alan, Natasha and Johann, who visited our stand on Wednesday!"

An aerial view of NAMPO Park near Bothaville
in the Free State Province